75 Years of Achievement
A Monmouth
Tradition

THE 1992 TRAVELING MONMOUTH 1856-1992

History
Achievement
Progress
Success

DEDICATION

To the Spirit of Monmouth! For seventy-five years has she carried forward the ideals of "History, Achievement, Progress, Success", since the first dream of our founders became a reality. Ever Striving for higher ideals and nobler attainment, the Spirit of Monmouth today stands at the fore of our Youth!

To the Spirit of Monmouth! May she grow through the next seventy-five years, never lessening, always progressing with the growth of our institution.

To the Spirit of Monmouth - - "History, Achievement, Progress, Success" - - the dream of future greatness - - this volume, The 1932 Revelings, is affectionately inscribed.

FOREWORD

M

As another year draws to its close, another volume of the Ravelings appears. As its theme we see the four words - - "History, Achievement, Progress, Success."

These four words tell more than a page of writing could. In it we see the culmination of all the years of struggle, hardship, and reward which the generations of students before us have experienced.

Looking forward - - as well as backward - - we predict another seventy-five years much more satisfying than the last. As in the past, "History, Achievement, Progress, Success" will be our motto, and the Spirit of Monmouth carries forward!

Thomas Hanna McMichael
President

"I extend greetings to you in this, our seventy-fifth year of service to young men and women. For unswerving loyalty on the part of the senate, faculty, alumni, student body, and friends, I thank you. As we move forward into the next quarter-century of the institution's history may we be enabled to make them the most fruitful of them all."

John Scott Cleland

DEAN OF MEN

"For those whose names and pictures appear in its pages, this book will be a fountain of youth; here the scenes of college duties, pleasures, defeats, and victories will remain unchanged; here college boys and girls will remain forever young. Here is a company of young people who have learned the sincerity of Monmouth friendships, the high level of Monmouth standards, the vigor of Monmouth contests, and the inspiration of Monmouth ideals. The hope of the faculty for all of them is that wider horizons, larger opportunities, and greater happiness lie ahead."

David M. McMichael

BUSINESS MANAGER

"To be able to greet the students of Monmouth College from the pages of this book is, to me, an honor; and it is with distinct pleasure that I record my association with the Student Body of Monmouth College, in years gone by and in years to come."

Mary Ross Potter

DEAN OF WOMEN

"In the realm of morals as well as in the literary and scientific fields there are geniuses; and I take it the moral genius is the man or woman who stands by his principles in the face of his surroundings. The mass of good people remain good when environment helps and does not hinder; and it is not easy to stem the tide of public opinion and custom."

"I prize our campus tradition as not only permitting but expecting every member to rise to his own highest and best."

"You can't keep those freshmen down!" was our war-cry in the pole scrap; and they couldn't! We were the only class in many years to win this combat both as freshmen and sophomores. We attained high measures of success in all lines of endeavor that first year.

"You can't keep those sophomores down!" they said the next year. This class continued its victorious exploits. Forensic, dramatic, religious, and social activities found our members numbered among them. They were members of intercollegiate debate squads, and one represented the college in the State contest.

"You can't keep those juniors down!" Again we came through with flying colors, with our representatives on athletic teams, debate teams, and the State Oratorical Contest. We speak of the accomplishments of juniors in Pi Kappa Delta, Sigma Tau Delta, National Collegiate Players, the Y, and many other fields.

"You can't keep those seniors down!" So, today, we utter these magic words in reflection of the glory of the past year. A May Queen and Chancellor are chosen from among us. We point with pride to our excellent dramatists and actors. We glory in our orators. Here, indeed, is the full-bloom of achievement of the Class of 1931. And yet—as graduation grows near—we cannot help whispering again these words—

"You can't keep '31 down!"

Junior Class History

OFFICERS

President William Hemphill
Vice President John Winbigler
Secy.-Treas. Frances Swanson

In the fall of 1928 this noble class entered Monmouth College full of highest hopes and aspirations. Now, after three years of achievement, we look back and find that our hopes were not in vain; we have done our duty, and performed it well!

As freshmen, we were well represented on all athletic teams; our boys won almost all their games and carried on faithfully. In the Pole Scrap we battled fearlessly and were defeated only after a long war. In other activities we found ourselves successful and were proud of our work.

As sophomores, we succeeded even better in making ourselves felt on the campus. Defeating the new frosh, we carried off honors to begin with. Athletic teams bore the '32 mark quite heavily. Our consistent winning in intramural and interclass meets was another proof of the superiority of '32. Women, as well as men, represented us in all lines of collegiate activity.

As juniors, we realize that our career is nearly over; yet we have another year of distinguished service like this last year. With many more honors than we could mention here, the class of '32 proudly flings her banner forward and shouts her battle-cry as we swing along the victorious path towards graduation.

Sophomore Class History

OFFICERS

President	Paul McBride
Vice President	Mary Tubbs
Secretary-Treasurer	Virginia Quade

In these two years in which the Class of 1933 has been here, we may look back over the half-way mark of our college career with justifiable pride. We did not win the pole scrap, but nevertheless made a grand showing.

In athletics, the class of '33 started things off by winning many games. Our freshman basketball squad was seldom defeated, and the football squad made excellent victories. Freshman girls entered into hockey, swimming, tennis and basketball contests and emerged with success. We had our representatives on the forensic teams, and our members of Tau Sigma Alpha had an unusually fine career.

Upon our return to school we started right by winning the pole scrap and putting the freshmen in their place. During the past year the Sophomores have been found on the football, basketball, baseball and track teams, where they have proved their worth. Pi Kappa Delta, Sigma Tau Delta, Y. M. and Y. W. C. A., Crimson Masque, Oracle, and The Ravelings have members of this illustrious class of '33.

We have two more years to achieve for Monmouth and we are looking forward to a successful and happy future.

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS

Freshman Class History

OFFICERS

President	Clyde McDaniel
Vice President	Gene Tinker
Secretary-Treasurer	Emma Work

The class of 1934 is proud of its achievements; they have done much during the short year they have been in Monmouth College, yet this is nothing compared to that which they hope to accomplish in the next three years.

We came to Monmouth in September as individuals, with little or no unity; now, at the close of our first year, we find ourselves welded into an unseparable group with ties binding us together. Let us see what has done this:

In the Pole Scrap we put up a royal battle and gave the Sophomores "Something to Remember Us By." Our green caps were worn with a trifle more assurance, even if we didn't win. In all our campus activities we have shown the same spirit of co-operation as in the class scrap. In scholarship we rank high. The leaders of the college for the next three years will come from our group. Our athletes distinguished themselves in all branches of sport.

We have already written one chapter of our history. The final chapter will contain many more achievements than this meager start—wait and see! What will our classmates do? Who knows; we predict a great future for them.

Representative Moderns

Each year a certain number of students are chosen, by various methods, to appear in these pages as the leaders of Monmouth College. It is an honor to be numbered among these men and women who have achieved for themselves greatness in campus activity.

This year, however, a new plan is being followed. Instead of only three men and three women, as before, we have chosen a larger group which includes Juniors as well as Seniors. In this way we feel that not only those persons fortunate enough to be elected by a student-body vote, but also many more who deserve it, shall be represented here.

The committee, consisting of two juniors, two seniors and a faculty member, have selected these names carefully.

The Pole Scrap

Mangled bodies, brutal beasts struggling for victory, torn clothing and bloody bruises—these marked the annual Pole Scrap contest held in the fall of 1930. This classic battle between the freshmen and sophomores is one of the high points of the school year.

Since the first scrap held in Monmouth College, the freshmen have been victorious only a few times; naturally, the sophomores won again this year, but it was only after a hard-fought battle that the winner was determined. Several times during the fracas the first-year men succeeded in climbing dangerously near the proud sophomore colors at the pole's tip.

After all was over and the sophs had carried away the prize of victory—another epoch in the season had been finished!

1930 May Fete

Just as the Pole Scrap seems to open officially the year, the May Fete brings most of the Campus activities to a close. These photos of last year's program illustrate the beauty of this annual affair.

"The Fete of the Nations" was the theme of this May Fete. Dancers representing all the nations of the world gave their folk-dances in graceful tempo.

Home Coming

Although extensive plans had been made for a Homecoming celebration for Monmouth's Diamond Jubilee, a pall of sadness fell over the campus and all activities except the football game and the Junior Class Play were omitted.

THE PROCESSION

GRADUATION---1930

IT'S ALL OVER!

THE WALK-OUT

Fifty-seven varieties of college students participated in the annual walk-out held the first evening of the college year, on Wednesday, September 17th. After passing through the business district, the procession wended its way towards the college, visiting each fraternity house and ending up on the athletic field where a large bonfire was burning. Refreshments were passed out, the students gave some cheers and sang college songs, and it was over.

Y. M. AND Y. W. RECEPTION

The Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. of the college held their annual reception for new students in the gym on the evening of September 20th. Introductions of old and new students took place while music was furnished by Homer Hazen's band.

FRATERNITY RUSH PARTIES

Phi Kappa Pi held its annual rush party at Hawcock's Cafe with the usual business of rushing and entertainment by Howard "Petie" Jackson and Chet Smith.

Theta Upsilon Omega held its rush party Thursday, September 20th, in the chapter house. A theatre party was enjoyed, with an enjoyable lunch and program at Hawcock's later.

Beta Kappa's rush party, held at the chapter house, was slightly marred this year by the presence of an unknown quantity in the food, but everything turned out all right. Rushees were entertained with music and bridge, and talks by alumni who came back for the occasion.

Tau Kappa Epsilon held their rush party as usual, with an enjoyable program, following the lunch. Alumni and friends present helped entertain the rushees in royal style.

HOMECOMING PARTIES

Five fraternities and four sororities held their annual homecoming parties this year. Some were given at Hawcock's; some at the chapter houses; all were attended by many alumni and alumne who had come back for Homecoming and to visit the boys and girls of their group.

OPEN HOUSE DANCES

Following the announcement of the Senate giving dancing privileges to the students, the social council arranged for weekly open-house dances in the recreation rooms on the third floor of Wallace Hall. The first of such evenings turned out to be a huge success, with Bernie Patman's Campus Band providing music for the grand march led by Dr. McMichael and Dean Mary Ross Potter, and for the dancing later. Games were enjoyed by those who did not care to trip the light fantastic or indulge in a bit of fancy Terpsichore. Students and faculty members alike were satisfied and the decision to continue these nights was unanimous.

KAPPA INFORMAL

Kappa Alpha Sigma entertained with an informal dinner in honor of Mrs. Miller and Miss Westermann, traveling advisers of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, on the evening of October ninth at Hawcock's. During the dinner college and sorority songs were enjoyed.

DORMITORY TEA

Girls of McMichael and Sunnyside Dormitories were guests of Miss Potter at tea Friday, October tenth. Senior girls assisted in pouring. These dorm teas help the girls of the college to get acquainted.

PHI DELT INFORMAL

Phi Delta Sigma sorority enjoyed their fall informal at the Galesburg Club, with music furnished by Martha Wennerberg and Helen Needham, and a theatre party later at the Orpheum. Eighteen couples were present.

KAPPA FALL PARTY

Kappa Alpha Sigma held their annual fall party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Soule on the evening of November seventh. The home had been made into an attractive night club, with a four course dinner and dancing later to music furnished by a four piece orchestra.

BETA KAPPA INFORMAL

Pi chapter of Beta Kappa held its fall party at the chapter home on Saturday, November 22. Mrs. Grace Peterson played a group of delightful selections, and Miss Wennerberg and Mrs. Petersen furnished music later for those who cared to dance. Bridge and light refreshments were a feature of the evening's entertainment.

COMMONS CLUB FALL PARTY

Members of the Commons Club and their lady friends enjoyed a theatre party and oyster supper Friday evening, November 21. After the supper music for dancing was furnished by Homer Hazen's Band.

THETA CHI INFORMAL

Theta Chi Mu entertained at an informal Pirate Party at Hawcock's, Friday night, November 28. Guests were seated at quartette tables, with dim lights and soft music played by Homer Hazen's Band for dancing. Tiny brown and white jugs served as dance programs in an effective manner.

PHI KAPS THROW TWO

On the evening of December sixteenth, forty couples attended the forty-fifth annual Christmas Tea of Phi Kappa Pi, held at the chapter house. Decorations stressed the Christmas spirit while Mrs. Glenn Shaver played Christmas music on the harp. Santa Claus appeared later with a gift for each guest.

The annual Big Eight Duck Dinner was held the night before vacation. A full seven-course dinner with all the fixin's was served to an expectant mob of Phi Kaps, alumni, and guests from the town.

Y. W. C. A. DINNER DANCE

The Y. W. C. A. held a formal dinner dance at Hawcock's on the evening of January thirty-first in honor of the freshman girls. Decorations stressed the Valentine Day idea with red and white paper decorations streaming over the room. Dancing was enjoyed to the music of Hazen's orchestra.

SORORITY RUSH PARTIES

Pi Beta Phi entertained their rushees on January twenty-seventh at a formal dinner-dance at the home of Mrs. E. B. Colwell. Entertainment featured a wedding in which the pledge was presented to Pi Phi and married to her.

Kappa Alpha Sigma alumnae entertained the active chapter and rushees with a formal tea at the home of Mrs. William Bardens, January twenty-eighth. Following the tea the guests adjourned to the home of Miss Janet Huey where they were entertained at the Kappa Kollege Inn, a very collegiate cabaret. At each place was found the "Kappa Kronical," a clever newspaper devoted to news of Kappa.

Theta Chi Mu's rush party was held at Hawcock's on Thursday evening, January twenty-ninth. The powder puff furnished the motif with plenty of mirrors on the walls and little musical powder boxes on the tables.

Phi Delta Sigma entertained her rushees on Friday evening, bringing the rushing season to a close. A silhouette dinner was held at the Colonial Hotel, the black and white color scheme adding much to the attractiveness of the affair.

KAPPA VALENTINE TEA

Kappa Alpha Sigma entertained with a lovely Valentine's Day Tea at the home of Mrs. Fred Pattee Saturday afternoon, February fourteenth. Gentlemen friends of the sorority were guests. Decorations were attractive with Valentine appointments and a large bowl of red roses and snapdragons as the centerpiece.

THE WASHINGTON BANQUET

The college birthday banquet was held in the gymnasium Tuesday evening, February twenty-fourth. Decorations featured the Diamond Jubilee idea, while each of the four classes decorated their own tables in an individual manner.

Music between the courses and for the grand march was furnished by Bernie Patman's orchestra. Speeches and acts were given after the dinner.

THETA CHI MU VALENTINE PARTY

A delightful Valentine Party was held at the home of Frances Swanson on North Sixth Street. Bridge was played during the afternoon and at six a lovely dinner was served. Valentine decorations were carried out to a very pretty effect.

BETA KAPPA OPEN HOUSE

Beta Kappa entertained their lady friends at an open house party after the basketball game with Illinois Wesleyan, February twenty-seventh. Bridge and dancing were enjoyed, and a light lunch was served later in the evening.

COMMONS CLUB RUSH PARTY

The Monmouth Commons Club entertained a group of rushees at a dinner and theatre party on February twentieth. After the show they adjourned to their club rooms where a "session" was enjoyed, along with other entertainment and refreshments.

KAPPA OPEN HOUSE

Kappa Alpha Sigma entertained with an Open House after the Wesleyan game at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Soule. During the evening sandwiches, cakes, and punch were served. Music for dancing was furnished by Mrs. Peterson.

PHI DELT TEA

Active members and pledges were entertained by Phi Delta Sigma at the home of Miss Alice Patton February twenty-eighth. The girls enjoyed bridge after which dainty refreshments were served.

KAPPA PLEDGE PARTY

Members of Kappa Alpha Sigma entertained their pledges with a formal dinner at Hawcock's Thursday, March sixth. Decorations were of white snapdragons in green. Mrs. Blair spoke after the dinner.

THETA CHI FOUNDER'S DAY

Celebrating their first birthday, Theta Chi Mu observed their founders' day with fitting ceremonies. A banquet was held at Hawcock's and a large decorated birthday cake held the attention of the guests. Later the pledges entertained with a delightful program.

Y. W. C. A. CARNIVAL

On Saturday night, April eleventh, the Y. W. C. A. girls held their Spring Carnival in the top floor of Wallace Hall. Each of the large rooms was decorated in gay color, with a night club, miniature golf course, game room, and theatre included.

After spending the evening pursuing their games and eating, etc., in the night club, the guests adjourned to the theatre where they were royally entertained by a group of artists from Broadway (not New York!).

TEKE OPEN HOUSE

Members of Tau Kappa Epsilon entertained at an Open House Friday evening, April third, at the chapter house. Dancing was enjoyed and light refreshments were served later.

PHI DELT IRISH PARTY

Phi Delta Sigma entertained at a St. Patrick's party Saturday evening, March twenty-first, in Wallace Hall. Green decorations and many floor lamps formed an attractive background for the dancing.

Phi Delta Sigma entertained the Alpha Chapter of Alpha Xi Delta (of Knox) at an informal tea at the home of Mrs. C. C. Woodward, Saturday, April eleventh.

TEKE SPRING FORMAL

The annual spring formal dinner dance of Alpha Epsilon Chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon was held Friday evening, April seventeenth, at the Monmouth Country Club. Fifty-one couples were present, decorations of spring colors adding much to the effectiveness of the affair. After the dinner, dancing was enjoyed to the music of Dick Marshall's Oriole Orchestra.

BETA KAPPA PLEDGE PARTY

Pledges of Pi Chapter, Beta Kappa, entertained the active members and their lady friends at a delightful gathering held at the chapter house Saturday evening, April 25. Entertainment by the pledges was the feature of the evening, with bridge and light refreshments later.

PHI KAPPA PI DINNER DANCE

Phi Kappa Pi held its annual spring formal at the Monmouth Country Club, Friday evening, May first. Decorations in spring colors with crepe paper streamers across the ceiling gave a glamorous air to the party. Music during the dinner and for dancing was furnished by Slick White's orchestra.

PHI DELTA SIGMA FORMAL

The spring formal of Phi Delta Sigma sorority was held at the Country Club Saturday evening, May second. A dinner was served by Eliza Smith, and afterwards dancing was enjoyed. Chapin's orchestra played.

THETA UPSILON OMEGA FORMAL

Zeta Beta of Theta Upsilon Omega entertained with their annual spring formal at the Country Club Friday night, May eighth. Amid a setting of wisteria, water lillies, daffodils, butterflies, and soap bubbles, dancing was enjoyed after dinner to the music of Chapin's band. During the dance a shower of bubbles descended from the ceiling.

THETA CHI DINNER DANCE

Theta Chi Mu held her annual spring formal Saturday evening, May ninth, at the Country Club. The room was decorated to represent a Spanish garden with flowers, vines, balconies, and a fountain in one corner. The centerpiece for each table was decorated in the Spanish theme. Music for dancing was furnished by Chapin's Illinois Six.

COMMONS CLUB PARTY

The Monmouth Commons Club held their spring formal at the Country Club Friday evening, May fifteenth. After the dinner Frank Kettering's orchestra played for dancing. Decorations were in black with silver discs and balloons hanging around.

BETA KAPPA SPRING FORMAL

Pi Chapter of Beta Kappa entertained with their annual spring formal at the Monmouth Country Club Saturday evening, May sixteenth. Decorations were in black and white, featuring the night club idea. Many colored spotlights played over the room, while the orchestra broadcasted their music over the "Beta Kappa Radio Station," thus carrying out the night club idea. After the dinner, dancing was enjoyed to the tunes of Lowry Clark and his Rainbow orchestra.

KAPPA SPRING FORMAL

Kappa Alpha Sigma entertained with their annual dinner dance at the Country Club on the evening of May twenty-third. Lovely spring decorations added to the setting and dancing was enjoyed with Jimmy Hick's orchestra playing.

PI BETA PHI SUMMER FORMAL

Illinois Alpha of Pi Beta Phi held her annual formal dinner dance at the Country Club May twenty-ninth. Harlan Hartman's orchestra played for dancing, and a supper was served later in the evening. Decorations stressed the Southern Garden idea, with a false ceiling of Spanish moss and vari-colored lights playing over it.

RIVER TRIPS

Although this society writer has donned various disguises and has played detective, no definite information concerning river trips this year could be obtained. Perhaps the river is all wet. At any rate all we know is that "they are planning them for some uncertain date in the future." Here's luck to you, boys!

DRAMATICS

Crimson Masque, so to speak, is Monmouth College's link with the nation-wide Little Theatre Movement. Since its founding in November, 1925, the organization has made swift progress. The first dramatic productions were closed programs in the Literary rooms of Wallace Hall. Two years later, in November, 1927, the present Little Theatre building had been renovated from the old gym and presentation of plays were open to the public. Monmouth College dramatics had come of age.

Crimson Masque pressed forward to another goal—namely, that of identifying itself with some national dramatic organization. On May 2, 1929, this dream was realized when Monmouth College was granted a chapter of National Collegiate Players.

The past two years have been witness of further astonishing improvements in equipment. In the fall of 1929 new chairs were installed which added to the comfort of the theatre patrons. During the summer of 1930 improvements were made in the stage lighting system, while later on in the year new house lights also appeared which made the theatre more attractive. The erection of a box scenery set is the newest acquisition of the Crimson Masque.

These outward accomplishments, however important they seem, are only indications of the more important phase of Monmouth College Dramatics, the spirit behind them which has made all progress possible. Crimson Masque under the efficient and inspirational guidance of Miss Ruth Williams, whose unceasing efforts have made possible at all the existence of a dramatic organization on the campus, has not only put itself upon a sound working basis but has succeeded in creating a real interest in drama. In doing this the Masque has deserved its identification, of which it is justly proud, with America's Little Theatre Movement. The success of sale of season tickets and the increasing interest of students evinces its growing influence on this campus.

Play Writing Contest

THE AUTHOR

"Touched---A Rose"

BY THELMA KNISS

Miss Thelma Kniss with her play, Touched---A Rose, won the play-writing contest sponsored by National Collegiate Players. It was produced in the Little Theatre, Monday night, April 20th. The play is built around the theme expressed in a short poem, Fragments, by May Brent Whatside.

The Grandfather, played very well and very consistently by Lincoln Wilson, and Jerry, played most sympathetically by the author herself, symbolized the spirit of love. Jerry with her dreams and gaiety, and Grandfather with his philosophy have a chance to work out their theory, that the real thing in life is the beauty of character, when Norman, Jerry's cynical uncle who is an artist, comes to visit them.

The charm of the play is in the freshness of the character of Jerry and the beauty of expression of the central idea.

"The Valiant"

By HOLWORTHY HALL

The scene of this dramatic play is laid in a warden's office near midnight of the evening that James Dyke, murderer, is to be hung. The courage of The Valiant in refusing to give any satisfactory explanation of his crime, and his remarkable self-control win both the admiration and sympathy of the audience. The actors under the direction of Ruth Scheidegger gave on the whole a consistent dramatic performance.

THE CAST

The Valiant	Paul Calhoun
The Warden	Fred Russell
The Priest	Franklin Leehr
Josephine Paris	Mary Jane McCracken
The Attendants	Paul McBride, Lincoln Wilson

"Thursday Evening"

By CHRISTOPHER MORLEY

Thursday Evening is a very domestic play, occurring in the kitchen of a young married couple. Each character at some time has a chance at washing the dishes. The ease and naturalness with which this process was accomplished was almost a professional note in acting, as was also the crying of Wadia McClure, the young wife.

Lytle McBride, as the husband, and Helen Louise Challacombe and Elizabeth Winbigler as the Mothers-in-law all carried their parts well. The play was directed by Irene Hennigan.

"The Vanishing Princess"

By JOHN GOLDEN

The Vanishing Princess is a delightful romantic fantasy. Donald Elliott, as Matinka, did an outstanding piece of acting in creating the whimsical, one-famous magician who owns the shop full of queer surprises. Much fun was afforded the audience by Floy Fetherston, as Cindy, the girl of irrepressible spirit and humor. The play was directed by Emilie Chapman.

THE CAST

Matinka	Donald Elliott
Cindy	Floy Fetherston
Danny	Raymond Wilson
The Landlord	Henry Pattee

"Lima Beans"

By ALFRED KRYMBOURG

Lima Beans, that very common vegetable, assumes an unusual role of importance in this play. Their lack almost causes a domestic tragedy for The Husband eats only lima beans and The Wife prepares soup beans for the noon meal. The play itself is written in metrical verse and under the direction of Thema Kniss, Fred Steadry and Gladys Omen worked out quite charmingly the action of the play. The stage setting made by Donald Elliott was quite unique and helped in the success of the play.

"Overtones"

BY ALICE GUERTSENBURG

The play, Overtones is a sophisticated type of drama depending upon the subtlety of its lines for its success. The play as directed by Estella Diehl was probably one of the most finished productions of the groups of plays.

THE CAST

Harriette, The Evident Self Margaret Stonerook
 Hattie, The Primitive Self Helen Maynard
 Margaret, The Evident Self Dorothy Laxson
 Maggie, The Primitive Self Marian Clark

"Rich Man, Poor Man"

BY BERTHA BURRILL

Rich Man, Poor Man, a farce, was a suitable closing to the season of one-act plays. The setting was a rummage sale room, where an altruistically spirited society girl, played by Janet Huey, was helping the poor people by answering all their needs from green shirts to false teeth. People of all nationalities—Jews, Italians, Scots and Swedes—flock to the sale. Lorraine Evers, playing the part of Peter, comes to the sale, not to buy anything, but to get Emma (Janet Huey) to marry him. The ensuing complications in helping Emma satisfy her customers' demands are most comical. The play was directed by Ruth White.

"The Sponge"

BY ALICE C. D. RILEY

This one-act play was perhaps the most outstanding piece of dramatic work done in any of the groups of plays. Although by no means the most finished production from all points of view, the acting alone surpassed that of any other one play. Minna Fricke as Nina, The Great Artist, ran the gamut of emotions with an ease and a skill, that was truly artistic and satisfying. Donald Elliott, with his usual competence, very humorously portrayed Alfredo, the Italian composer and accompanist. Alice McDougal as Nina's daughter Katherine, Miriam McCrear, as Katie and Robert Laxson as Beppo, each took their parts ably.

Much credit belongs to the director Dwight Thomas, also for his effective stage setting and for beauty in groupings. The rhythm of the play was very marked and when the play was finished it left a feeling of satisfaction with the audience.

"The Wedding Dress"

The Wedding Dress is a costume play of colonial days. Sweetness and charm were the dominant notes of the production (except when disturbed by Aunt Hanna, played aptly by Frances Swanson). Nancy and Marie are sisters and the play concerns their love affairs. Nancy, played by Marjorie McMichael, is loved by Asa Bingham, Eldon Brown, a substantial Quaker gentleman; but she loves Farrgut, a dashing young adventurer played by Lincoln Wilson. Marie, the quiet sister, played by Lillian West, loves Asa (but no one even guesses it at first). Much to her father's disgust and her aunt's disapproval, Marie helps her sister escape with Farrgut and wholly unintentionally, wins Asa for herself. Kathryn Field was the director.

"The Intruder"

BY MAURICE MAETERLINCK

This one-act play was the most beautifully staged of the season's program. Primarily The Intruder is a play of atmosphere and everything in the production combined to give this effect. Miss Kathryn will be long remembered for the beauty and grace of her characterization of Ursula, the eldest daughter. Donald Winbigler as director, proved himself very efficient in securing stage effects and groupings.

Speech Recitals

ESTELLA DIEHL

Miss Diehl, in her graduating recital in Interpretative Reading, gave "The First Mrs. Fraser" in the Auditorium on the evening of April 16. An excellent piece of work was given the audience in a manner that showed complete understanding of method and presentation.

RUTH SCHEIDEGGER

A rare treat was in store for the audience which heard Miss Scheidegger read A. A. Milne's play, "The Romantic Age," as her recital in Interpretative Reading. This play was full of fine character studies, from wide-eyed little boys to invalid mothers, and Miss Scheidegger presented it in a very pleasing way.

THE LITTLE THEATRE

The Messiah

A chorus of about one hundred voices, assisted by a twenty piece orchestra, presented Handel's "Messiah" December eighteenth at the college auditorium. The production was sponsored by the Monmouth Music Club and was directed by Glenn Shaver of the College Conservatory of Music.

The Monmouth Music Club is intensely interested in keeping the appreciation of the best music alive in Monmouth. Each year, with the help of the college, several worthwhile concerts are presented to the people of Monmouth.

As an appropriate Christmas production The Messiah was presented this year. The chorus numbers were given in a finished manner and were very effective. A fine cast of soloists assisted. The director and those who took part were repaid by the large and appreciative audience of people from Monmouth and from neighboring communities.

The efforts of the Monmouth Music Club are appreciated and all music-lovers hope that they will continue their interest in the music of Monmouth.

Girl's Glee Club

Although the Girls' Glee Club was not permitted to take an extender trip this year they had an excellent program which they presented in several of the neighboring towns.

A group of twelve of the girls entertained at various occasions in Monmouth and other towns, presenting a program of concert and novelty numbers.

Much of the success of the club was due to the pep and the fine direction of Mrs. Grace Gawthrop Peterson.

Men's Glee Club

The Men's Glee Club took a short trip into Iowa this year. They presented an interesting program of riding songs, beautiful love lyrics, sea songs, negro spirituals, selections from a favorite stage and screen success and the usual peppy songs for the conclusion.

Mrs. Shaver, as harpist for the club, delighted the audience with several beautiful harp selections.

The club was fortunate this year in having with them as an additional attraction an expert whistler, Max Medley. His interpretation of several of the classical pieces greatly pleased the audiences.

Earl Barnes was the soloist and the club was under the splendid direction of Mr. Glenn Shaver.

College Vesper Choir

To the College Choir and to Professor T. Merrill Austin is due much of the credit for the beauty and impressiveness of our Vesper services. The worshipful atmosphere at Vespers is created to a large extent by the stirring processional, the solos, the anthems, and the recessional which softly fades away.

The present membership of the choir includes students, conservatory students, and instructors in the conservatory. According to the director, processional, the solos, the anthems, and the recessional which softly fades ever assembled in this college.

To Professor Goodrich, the organist for the choir, much appreciation for his fine work in accompanying the group and solo numbers, as well as his fine preludes and postludes, is given. Mr. Glenn Shaver, assistant director, ably conducts the choir whenever Professor Austin is unable to be present.

Monmouth College Band

The Monmouth College Band made over twenty appearances in public this past year including football and basketball games, pep meetings, and parades. To close the school year they have planned an excellent program of open-air concerts.

The effectiveness of the band is fully realized as one watches them swing down the street to tapping drums and booming sousaphones (four—count them!) With a pert, strutting drum-major twirling his baton out in front, it is a pretty sight to lead the Scotch warriors into battle.

Under the capable leadership of Mr. W. B. McMillan, director, and Howard Stevenson, business manager and assistant director, the band has made rapid improvement since it was organized in the fall. Many of the members will return to school next year, and a large, competent band is expected.

Pi Kappa Delta

Again Monmouth Pi Kappa Deltans won fame for themselves at the Province Tournament held at Oshkosh, Wisconsin, April 1, 2 and 3.

The women's squad composed of Mary Jane McCrackin and Floy Fetherston on the affirmative, and Ruth Bohman and Jane Gillham on the negative, went through the tournament undefeated, losing the vote of only one judge. This was the second time that Monmouth's women had won such a victory, for two years ago they were victorious in a similar contest held at Bloomington. Miss Fetherston has the unusual distinction of being a member of the winning teams in both tournaments. To capture the title each of the girls took part in five debates in three days, defeating representatives from some of the most outstanding schools in forensic work.

Although the men's teams did not win the championship, they succeeded in entering the semi-finals with the representatives from Wheaton, Carroll and Eureka. Every debate of the final four was won on a split decision and any change in a judge's vote would have altered the standings of the teams. Wheaton, the winner in the Illinois State League, won the tournament. Monmouth was ably represented by William Hemphill and Edward Holborrow speaking for the negative, and Eugene Beste and Sam Bond for the affirmative.

Ruth Scheidegger placed second in the women's oratorical contest with her oration, "The Pursuit of the Easy." The representative from Normal University won the contest. Miss Scheidegger did exceptional work, and was able to place higher than Miss Geraldine Doyle of Shurtleff, the winner of the state contest.

Fred Steadry speaking on the Allignment of Political Parties in America, finished fourth against strong competition in the men's division of the Extempore Speaking contest. Although Marie Hansen, a freshman, did not place in the women's division, she spoke convincingly and shows great possibilities for the future.

Men's Debate Squad

The men's teams broke even in the matter of victories in the State League. The affirmative defeated Shurtleff, and the negative Eureka and Normal University, but the men were unable to withstand the onslaught of the arguers from Augustana, Illinois and North Central. Early in the season a dual practice debate was held with Macomb Teachers.

Sam Bond, a senior, with the help of Eugene Beste, Thomas Robinson and Franklin Loehr upheld the affirmative of the "Unemployment Insurance" question. The negative team was composed of William Hemphill as leader, Edward Holborrow, Wayne Nichol and Fred Steadry. Bond, Holborrow and Steadry will be graduated in June and their places will be exceptionally hard to fill.

Two of the most interesting debates of the season had to be cancelled. One was with Ripon on the home platform and the other with Michigan State. The men started to Michigan but a snow storm and wreck caused them to turn back.

Women's Debate Squad

This year Monmouth's women won the state debate trophy by defeating teams from North Central, Normal University, Wheaton and Augustana. During the regular season only three of the nine debates were lost and these were dropped to Albion and Kalamazoo Teachers. The question discussed was: "Resolved, that state medicine should be established." Floy Fetherston lead the affirmative team and Jane Gillham the negative.

The conflict with North Central was held February 20 in the Presbyterian Church of Princeton. Marie Hansen, Ruth Bohman and Jane Gillham whose homes are in Princeton, represented Monmouth. On March 17 the debate with Augustana that determined the championship was held in the Methodist Church of Aledo. The Monmouth team was composed of Floy Fetherston, Jane Gillham and Pauline Mathias. A trip to Wheaton and Michigan was made by Mary Jane McCracken and Floy Fetherston. They defeated Wheaton but lost to Michigan. The other state league debate was held at Normal, where the girls defeated their closest rival for the championship. Gertrude White, Helen Maynard and Nathalie Lytle won the return debate with Augustana at Rock Island. Kalamazoo and Albion returned the debates, and Albion was defeated on the home platform, but again Kalamazoo was victorious.

Floy Fetherston is the only senior on the squad but her place will be hard to fill since she has debated four years and done much to bring Monmouth victories. Eight experienced speakers will return next year, including the four freshmen.

Oratory

Monmouth College was host to the State Oratorical Association this year when the best speakers of each college in Illinois sent representatives to the contest held in Wallace Hall and the Auditorium.

Ruth Scheidegger was our speaker in the woman's contest, speaking on "The Pursuit of the Easy." Although Ruth placed second, we feel proud of her and know that her efforts were splendid.

Lytle McBride was our representative in the men's division with his oration, "Parasites." He did not come through the preliminaries, but made a fine showing against the other speakers.

Hart

This year marks Coach Herbert L. Hart's seventh year as Athletic Director of Monmouth College. During these years he has been developing a splendid football and track team which have performed consistently under his tutelage. Not only has he developed good teams but he has placed our athletic department on a par with the best small colleges in the country.

Taylor

Coach Warren Taylor has been at Monmouth only this one year, but as football coach he has made his presence widely known. Formerly a coach of championship high school teams, Coach Taylor has continued his splendid work at Monmouth and has brought glory to the school many times. Taylor was well known in his undergraduate days here as a member of the famous Taylor-to-Molesworth passing combination.

Smiley

"Bob" was an outstanding athlete in his collegiate days at Monmouth, and his work here during the past two years has proved that he is just as outstanding as a coach. Smiley is responsible for our successful basketball team last winter and our baseball team this spring. The college is fortunate in having such a man on the coaching staff.

Captain Scot Wilson

Huggins

Monmouth won her opening game from Wheaton. Although the game was played in a somewhat ragged fashion, it was not without thrills. McConnell threw a long pass to H. Mekemson for the first touchdown. "Jelly" made a sixty-yard run aided by some fine blocking, only to be brought down by the opponents' safety man.

The following week-end Monmouth won from the highly-rated North Central team. Bob Sharpe blocked a kick and Monmouth recovered the ball. A little while later Mekemson caught a long pass over the goal line to tie the score. The second touchdown was made by Huggins who dove over a pile-up of players. Monmouth had accomplished the seemingly impossible feat—they had defeated the great North Central team! Even Coach Taylor couldn't believe it. He had failed to notice one of Monmouth's touchdowns and thought the score was only a tie. Mekemson and Scot Wilson blocked out Stiles most of the time, while Corgnati "ran the legs off" the Naperville men.

Kirk

The next Saturday our boys ran wild against the Illinois College team. Early in the opening quarter Adam Kirk scored Monmouth's first touchdown and Corgnati's pass to Mekemson was good for the extra point. Roscoe Scott scored another goal when he picked up a blocked punt and carried it over the line, and Kirk dropped it over the bar for another point. The third touchdown was made by Jelly after a series of long runs from mid-field alternating with Corgnati in carrying the ball. The last score came when Gray blocked a punt and McNeill grabbed the ball out of the air, racing over the goal line. Illinois College obtained their only points when McConnell fell on the ball for a safety and when Noll, catching a long pass, ran sixty yards where the ball was again put in play and forced over.

Longman

On the following Friday, Coe defeated Monmouth in a night game at Cedar Rapids. The Coe team, composed of some of the finest football players of the offense before the runner had gotten a good start.

H. Mekemson

The Fighting Scots made a comeback the next Saturday when they beat Augustana 19 to 6 in a night game at Rock Island. In this game the Monmouth machine functioned better than at any other time of the season. Kirk ran, McConnell plunged, Corgnati dashed around the ends, and Mekemson received passes. The touchdown was made on a cleverly executed play—Kirk faked to McConnell through the line, then proceeded to run wide around left end. Monmouth had some satisfaction in beating the team that had defeated Knox.

Whiteman

Boucher

The next game was played at Lake Forest at the Gold Coaster's homecoming. An ill wind which had favored Monmouth early in the game proved to be of no benefit in the last quarter when it became necessary to punt out of some tight corners. A long pass from McConnell to Mekemson, who pulled it in as he fell over the goal line, was Monmouth's only score. It looked like enough to win the game, but later Stralko and Frezacca made some dazzling runs in the final period and placed Lake Forest in a position to score two touchdowns.

On the next Saturday the Monmouth cripples recovered enough to administer a 31-6 defeat to Carthage. Huggins scored the first touchdown after Kirk and McConnell carried the ball down the field. McConnell threw a pass to Mekemson for the second touchdown. Corgnati ran around the end for the third touchdown, while Robinson scooted around end for the fourth score. Mekemson scored the final touchdown as he grabbed a pass from

Robinson

Robinson. Carthage scored on a line plunge after they had marched down the field on a series of passes. Stan McConnell and H. Mekemson played the best game of their careers.

Gray

Monmouth met Knox on our own field on Thanksgiving Day. All pre-game dope gave them both an equal chance. Both teams had good linesmen, and the Knox runner, Nichol, was matched by Corgnati of M. C. Knox had a great fullback in Babcock; Monmouth's fullback, McConnell, was one of our leading ground gainers. The bitter cold was forgotten for a moment as Corgnati received the opening kick-off and weaved around his foes, cluding all but the safety man. Monmouth failed to convert its advantage into a score when a long pass was intercepted by a Knox man. A pass from Nichol to Wellman gave Knox the only score of the game. Corgnati and Speer tossed passes to Mekemson for a long time but were unable to connect. Scot Wilson, Virgil Boucher, and Randall Gray prevented Knox from making successful thrusts through the line.

McConnell was badly hurt after plunging fourteen yards through the line to light on the frozen ground. The sting of defeat was soon forgotten by the Monmouth fans when they learned that Stanley was fatally injured.

Campin

Speer

Each team made three first downs during the game; Knox tried one pass, completed it, and intercepted two of Monmouth's; the Scotch tried nine passes and completed only two of them. Penalties were: Knox, 35 yards; Monmouth, 50 yards.

This year's team, besides being handicapped by a great many injuries, fought under a cloud of gloom which covered the campus as a result of the illness and death of Bob Sharpe, and later, Stan McConnell,—two of the finest football players that Monmouth College ever had.

The Dickinson rating system placed Monmouth in sixteenth place in the Little Nineteen Conference. Nineteen varsity letters were awarded, and twelve of these men will return next year. Lorance Evers received a manager's sweater for his services during the football season.

Outstanding players were numerous this year. Almost every player on the team had some point in which he excelled. Captain Scott Wilson, who led the Scotchmen into battle, was a fine linesman. His blocking and charging made a hole in the line every time, enabling the runner to come through. His weight was not so much, but he had that determination to hit the line.

A hard hitter was Russ (Amos) Whiteman, who played both line and back positions. His spirit was always determined to buck the line.

Stan McConnell was one of Monmouth's finest football men and a gentleman. His loss from the campus was felt a great deal, not only

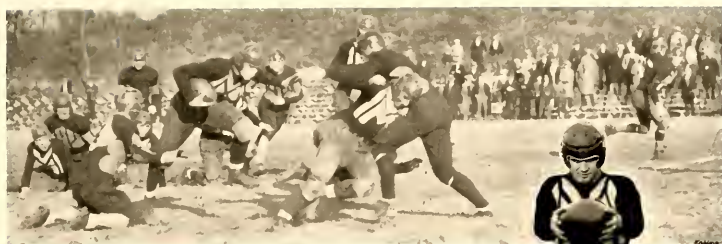

Jahn

Bob Wilson

Tinnes

Scott

because of his ability to play clean football, but also because his presence always added a vital something to any company of students.

Bob Sharpe, called away from us earlier in the season than Stan, was a player who had earned enough reputation during only one year of varsity play that he was reckoned a very dangerous opponent this season. Playing in only the first few games, Bob showed up even better this year and doubtless would have rated high honors on all-conference teams. Bob was prominent in many other lines of campus activity and played every game of life equally well.

Adam Kirk, senior, played his final year of football in the backfield. His was a hard-hitting, hard-running style of game, and he always came through with a yardage gain when yards were needed most. Harold Mekemson, another senior, played bang-up ball nearly all the time although his performance was not always successful.

Gibb

Jelly Robinson and Leino Corgnati were two men who gained ground consistently. While not always coming out on top, these boys played with a grim determination and many times helped the team out at the crucial moment.

Conant McNeill, senior, finished his football career as Monmouth met Knox on Thanksgiving day, and was a fine, dependable man even though his was not a flashy, stellar type of performance.

McConnell

McNeill

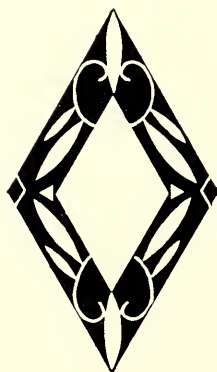

Winbigler

Material for next year seems to be good. Men like Stewart and Cobb Wilson will get in the game and fight hard. Longman, Bricker, and Campin were players who could be put into the game with safe results. Roscoe Scott was a man who could be depended upon to take the ball through the line when going was tough, and Randall Gray, a sophomore, showed his material in many games this year. Boucher at tackle could be depended upon to get his man every time. Little Tag Grauer the small lad who played in the back field, was speedy and many times he ran away from his more portly foes.

Bricker

John Winbigler played ball much better this year than during any previous season. His improvement was great, and he should be one of the first string men next year. Huggins and Speer, two boys who play fine football and basketball, were frequent runners. They made quite a number of points for Monmouth this season while lending their good support to the team.

SECOND ROW—C. Smith, A. Rahming, M. Harper, L. Brown.

Freshman Football

The Baby Scots had a fine aggregation this season, and came through the schedule with success. Although the squad was not quite as large as in previous years, some very good material was discovered and developed into a strong team.

Most of the season was spent in scrimmage with the varsity team, but conference rules allowed us two scheduled games. The first game with Cornell, when the yearlings walked all over them by a score of 19-0. Bobby Woll, McDaniels, Hamilton, and Ozburn kept the Cornell freshmen busy with their runs and line work.

Monmouth's frosh next met the Knox first-year team. This game was most satisfying, first because we defeated our rivals by the heavy score of 24-0, and second because the players showed such fine playing ability and leadership. Material was developed here that will show up in good shape next year. Bobby Woll led the team with his fine smashes, aided by Stephenson, McDaniels, Winbigler, Frantzen, and Hamilton.

Men awarded numerals were: Whitenack, Ozburn, Harper, Spearing, Stephenson, Winbigler, Smith, McDaniels, Hamilton, Rahming, Keating, R. Brown, E. Brown, Woll, Boothby, Medley, Frantzen, Tinker, Finch, and L. Brown.

The "M" Club is an organization to which only those men who have earned a varsity letter may belong. Two years ago this club, which had declined in activity, was reorganized and at the present time meetings are held each month. Matters of business are discussed and suggestions for better sports at Monmouth are taken up.

The club publishes a regular bulletin which deals with the status of sports at Monmouth, together with the addresses and occupations of alumni. This is sent out to all "M" Club alumni.

Bell

Monmouth finished another successful basketball season under the direction of Coach Robert Smiley. The Scots won fourteen out of nineteen games, finishing third in the Little Nineteen and fourth in the Midwest Conference. With only Corgnati and Robinson left from last year's fine team, Smiley had to build an entirely new machine. Huggins was assigned to center position, and Leo McLoskey and Inglett were placed as forwards.

Monmouth won her first game by beating Iowa Wesleyan 27-13. Corgnati and Robinson guarded their opponents closely as well as scoring several baskets for M. C. Monmouth then took Mount Morris to the tune of 33-12. Huggins showed his worth as an important cog in Smiley's machine.

In practice games Monmouth defeated the Burlington Y. M. C. A. 33-14, and won over Parsons College by a score of 16-10.

Carleton next invaded Monmouth in the best game held on the local courts this season. Carleton won, 17-15 in the closing minutes of the game, due to an unfortunate miscue by a Monmouth player. From every indication, both teams played inspired basketball in this game. The following game with Coe was an easy victory for the Scots, Corgnati and Huggins being high point men in the 32-19 score.

Monmouth won their seventh successive basketball victory over Augustana by a 23 to 19 score. Following this Cornell defeated Monmouth 28-23 at Mount Vernon.

The first game of the Wisconsin trip resulted in our victory, winning over Ripon 33-27 in an overtime game. Three extra periods were necessary to determine the victory. At Beloit came the first indication of a slump which followed the players through several games. Beloit won, 32-28, and then the powerful Carroll team defeated us by a score of 38-25.

McLoskey

The next week, Monmouth barely turned a victory at Galesburg over Knox. A hard fought game ended with Monmouth holding the big end of a 22-21 score. The game with Lawrence looked like sure defeat for Monmouth until "Jelly" went on one of his basket-shooting sprees and, aided by his mates, turned the game into a Monmouth victory with a score of 30-22.

The next game was just another defeat for Augie, 30 to 27. Ho-hum! Following this, we met Illinois Wesleyan who, finding the Scots in a spirit of overconfidence, took us 25-21, although Monmouth scored one more field goal than the Methodists. Official sentiment seemed to favor the foe.

The next game, however, saw the Scots come up from behind and go out around Knox for a final score of 28-19. Huggins scored five field goals and four free throws. Changing to a fast-breaking style of game, the Monmouth warriors next defeated Parsons College, at Fairfield, in the last few minutes of the game, 27-26.

The last game of the year saw Monmouth beat Illinois Wesleyan by a score of 21-18. Wesleyan led at the half five to three, but Robinson cleared the way in the last half for a rally. A couple of long baskets by "Jelly" started the Scots off right and they piled up a margin that Wesleyan failed to overcome.

Huggins

Jack Inglett is the only man who will not be back next year. Corgnati, Huggins, Robinson, and McLoskey will be important members of next year's fighters. Several outstanding players on the freshman squad should develop into fine material and should supply Coach Smiley with good timber for next year's team.

Letters were awarded this year to Robinson, Corgnati, Huggins, McLoskey, Inglett, Bell, and Meyer.

Williamson

Monmouth's cage squad was much smaller this year than in any previous season, yet Coach Smiley succeeded in rounding out his raw material into a fine team. With only two men left over from last year's team, the boys were trained until all were equally proficient. Corgnati and Robinson were the two men who were veterans this year.

Jelly Robinson came to the basketball court directly after football ended; Corgnati did also. Jelly found the game a little faster than the gridiron, but without the hard jolts characteristic of football. He managed to make himself the high point man of the season with a great many free-throws as well as field goals to his credit.

Leino Corgnati rated high among point-makers this season. His trained basket eye stood the team in good stead many a time during a hard-fought game.

Meyer

Another of Smiley's pupils this year was Red McLoskey, who played forward. He was a speedy player and could get into positions to shoot baskets than most players. Bell, forward, was hard to catch and contributed greatly to our scores.

Robinson

Joe Meyer got into many of the games this season and along with Speer, Bencini, and Kelly made it hot for many of the opposing players.

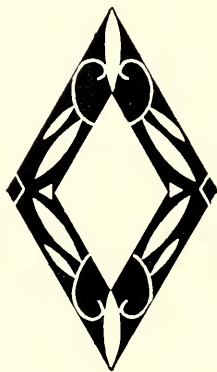

Two men who were members of Smiley's team of two seasons ago were Jack Inglett and Stubby Williamson. Inglett was out of school last year, and did not play. He came into this year's competition with a good deal of experience, however, and was able to show his foes what Monmouth players are made of. Williamson, who was not on the squad last year, also came through with a fine game and was a clever floor worker and and a deadly shot.

Corgnati

Amos Whiteman showed up in his play this year with fine judgment and excellent display of accuracy in shooting goals. His work was not that of an amateur, but showed the precision of a man who was a veteran at the game.

Freshman Basketball 1930-1931

The Freshman basketball team had a better year this season than in many previous years. Meeting two teams, they defeated both and showed what fine stuff they were made of. The yearlings seldom have an even break, but this time they ran circles around all competition and really made a name for themselves.

The first game, with Knox, was a close contest but ended with our men holming the top side of the 27-26 score. Boothby, McDaniels, McConnell, Ozburn, Winbigler, Hamilton, and Woll are still young and may improve a lot in the next three years, but they gave a very fine performance in the Knox frosh game. It looked like the Galesburg men would be knocked for a row but they snapped out of it and held the Scots to a close edge. Coach Taylor changed his tactics then and our boys got hot and finished by winning.

The next game was with Augustana, and was comparatively easy. The boys came out with a win by the score of 24-15 over the Terrible Swedes. This game was full of excitement and gave a good exhibition of what the frosh really can do, once they get started. Exceptional power was shown in this second game. Three full teams were used during the game, replacements being made almost continually.

Coach Taylor is to be congratulated upon this fine bunch. Smiley will have a lot of good material to choose from next year when he rounds out the varsity. Nearly every man on the frosh squad was a star, so there would be little space here to name them all.

Baseball Season 1930

Monmouth had a very successful baseball season in 1930 winning 8 games and losing 4. Having seven letter men back, Coach Bob Smiley produced a combination of which Monmouth is justly proud.

The pitching staff was well taken care of with Ted Shoberg as leading hurler and Tom Ingram and Rock McCreight as relief men. Bob Dew in his first year of varsity baseball held down the catching job like a veteran. The infield had Harold Mekemson on first base, Stubby Williamson with varsity experience played bang-up ball at second; Leino Corgnati stepped right from the freshman ranks into shortstop position; Parli, another veteran, was at third base. In the outfield, Coach Smiley used McCreight in left field; Earl Mekemson in the center garden; and Jelly Robinson in right field. These eleven men were awarded letters at the close of the season. Gibson was manager for the season.

This 1930 nine earns a place of distinction beside the other fine baseball teams which Monmouth has been consistently having. With only three men lost by graduation things look bright for another successful season next year.

Track

The various interfraternity and interclass meets were held in February and then Monmouth trackmen prepared in earnest for the 1930 season. Relay teams were sent to Drake and the Illinois Relays and although good times were turned in by the local runners, they did not place in the money.

The spring season opened with Cornell at Mt. Vernon, Iowa, the first week in May. Cornell completely outclassed the team but the locals garnered firsts in the two-mile, pole-vault, javelin, 220 low hurdles, by King, Firmin, Whiteman, and Morocco respectively. A new college record was set in the two-mile by King with the time of 9:51.

The next meet was with Knox at Monmouth. For the first time in years the Hartmen defeated the Knoxmen and swamped them by the score of 82-49. Local first were won in the 88, mile, 2-mile, low hurdles, javelin, discus, pole-vault, and high jump. The freshmen also repelled the Knox yearlings to keep the Frosh track victory slate clean. Monmouth's first year team was composed of Terry, McLoskey, Mourant, Bell, Huggins, Van Gundy, Murphy, Gray, Grauer, and Gibb.

The next week-end was spent at home to take the stand against Carthage, Macomb and Augustana. The Hartmen proved superior by placing in the majority of the events and piling up $74\frac{1}{2}$ points; Carthage was second with 45 points; Macomb third with 29 points; and Augie fourth with $14\frac{1}{2}$ points. Monmouth showed most of her power in the middle distances and in the field events.

They journeyed to Peoria the following week-end, where Bradley was entertaining the Little 19. Bradley proved to be a good host winning with 38 points; closely followed by Lombard, Knox, Illinois College, Wheaton, Illinois State Normal, Carthage and Monmouth. Monmouth's only first was scored by King, who beat out a great field of two-milers. The other Monmouth points were scored by Morocco, Ogle, and the relay team which placed fourth.

In the Mid-West meet held at Lawrence College, in Appleton, Wis., Monmouth placed fourth with $17\frac{1}{2}$ points. Carleton won with 40 points, closely followed by Coe, Cornell and Monmouth. Whiteman won the pavelin, setting a new college record of 175 ft. 4 in. King also won the two-mile in 9:53. Morocco placed in the hurdles, Ogle in the shot, as did the relay team. Monmouth letter winners were Stewart, Winbigler, Sanderson, King, Corgnati, Ogle, Firmin, Whiteman, Porter, and Morocco.

Track Record

CORNELL MEET—Cornell outclassed Monmouth $84\frac{1}{2}$ - $46\frac{1}{2}$, Monmouth winning four firsts. King set a new college record in the 2-mile run of 9:51.

KNOX MEET—Monmouth swamped Knox for the first time in years, 82-49. The locals scored heavily in the field events and in the distance runs.

QUADRANGULAR MEET—Monmouth won by having a better balanced team. Monmouth $74\frac{1}{2}$, Carthage 45, Macomb 29, Augustana $14\frac{1}{2}$.

LITTLE NINETEEN MEET—Bradley easily won the meet in which Monmouth placed eighth. King won the 2-mile run for Monmouth.

MID-WEST MEET—Carleton, Coe, Cornell, and Monmouth were the ranking four of the conference. Whiteman and King were first in their events, Whiteman setting a new college record in the javelin with a throw of 175 feet 6 inches.

Swimming

A great deal of interest in swimming has been shown this year by the men of the college. The athletic department has held intramural swimming meets during the year and has sponsored meets with other colleges as well. Over one hundred men took part in the intramural meets, thus stimulating interest and competition.

During the past few years interest in swimming has increased much, due to the fact that two years of physical education are required of all men. Nearly three months of the year are taken up by swimming instruction. Every man who gets credit for this work must know how to swim. Under the instruction of Adam Kirk, men have progressed rapidly and we have a fine crop of swimmers who will be able to represent Monmouth in the future.

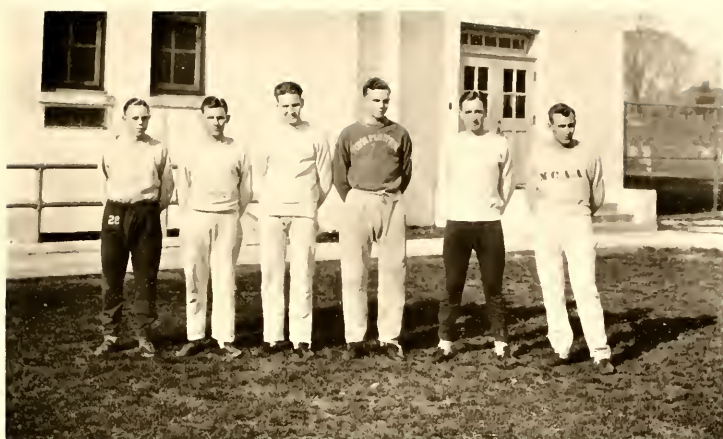

Boxing

Again we had boxing classes, under the direction of Mr. Frederick H. Lauder, who was well fitted to instruct the men since he has had considerable experience as a boxer at the University of Illinois and in the U. S. Navy.

Students who reported for practice learned the fundamentals and got a lot of enjoyment out of the practice. This was held regularly in the boxing quarters in the gymnasium.

John Wetherly—"Hop, Step, and Jump."

Cross Country

Monmouth College "Harriers" closed their 1930 season showing the best record of any team since cross country was introduced as a minor sport. The "Hill and Dalers" led by King and ably supported by Sanderson, Van Gundy, Johnson, and Pogue were under the "tutelage" of Earl Davis. They annexed two dual meets and placed second and fourth respectively in the Midwest and State conferences.

In the first meet of the year Monmouth walked away with Illinois College to the tune of 18 to 37. Two weeks later Monmouth edged out a victory over Cornell by one point, the score being 27 to 28. In the Midwest meet Monmouth placed second of the six schools competing, Cornell winning by a one point margin. Out of twelve schools entered in the State meet the local runners placed fourth. There was only nine points between the first four places, Bradley winning, followed by Normal, Wheaton, and Monmouth in the order named. King was the out-standing man, which he showed by winning all of the meets that he participated in. Van Gundy and Sanderson were close behind him, besides those just mentioned, Johnson was the only other man to receive a letter. All are underclassmen and should show their wares next year.

Matchet was the only Freshman to receive the numeral reward. He won first in the Freshman meet with Cornell, but Monmouth failed to win because they had only one man running.

Intramural

Intramural competition began this year with the introduction of a new sport—touch football. While not as vigorous and tough as the regular football game, this type was full of many thrills and moments of fast play.

Touch football is played similar to the ordinary game except that no tackling is done and much of the hard knocks are removed. Coach Hart is to be commended upon the introduction of the game into Monmouth College intramural competition.

After a series of games, the Commons Club and Theta Upsilon Omega came into the finals and in the last game TUO defeated their opponents 6-0 to win the championship and to add another cup to their mantel.

TUO was awarded the trophy for the best all-around individual athlete engaged in intramural activity. This cup was given at the close of school last spring, and is to be awarded again this year after the intramural program is completed.

Volleyball was another sport in favor during the winter months. The intramural league functioned in this as well as in touch football. The league played for several weeks, eliminating the weaker teams until only the TUO and Commons Club teams remained. The TUO's captured this title also, and pulled down another trophy.

After the volleyball season was ended, basketball reigned supreme in intramural competition. The TUO boys won this too, after defeating twenty other teams who tried to stop them. Theta Upsilon Omega surely had an all-round group this season with three trophies so far in the year.

After basketball came swimming, under Coach Hart and Instructor Kirk's direction. The same old story here again. TUO came through to win this series of meets. Why can't someone else win? Oh, Well; congratulations, boys, and keep up the good work! That old mantel of yours must be pretty full by this time.

The freshman class held an intra-class meet early in March. Two teams took part in the meet with all the regular events pulled off on the indoor track. Outstanding men in this meet were Bostwick, Clark, and Laxson. Bostwick was captain of one team, and Matchett headed the other lineup.

Intramural

The TUO champs met the Augustana intramural winners in a fast-moving basketball game at the college gym. Our representatives walked all over the Vikings, outpointing them in all departments of the game and winning by a score of 42-20.

Intramural baseball next took the spotlight, along with the outdoor intramural meets. The Phi Kaps are leading the field now as we go to press, and seem the logical champions,—although there may be an upset in the dope bucket later. Read your Oracle for the latest results!

Outdoor mural track is underway at this time, with the teams doing their best. Beta Kappa and Teke are going strong, and it will be a toss-up to tell this early in the season just who will win. You may be sure that the winner will be a plenty strong team, though.

Intramural tennis is progressing, and seems to be in great favor among the courtmen this season, although more attention is being paid to inter-collegiate competition than to intramural meets. There are several strong tennis teams, as well as individual singles players, who are entered in the tournament this year. The finals will be run off around the last week of school.

Intramural sports have shown a great deal of progress during these past few years. Starting with a small program a few years ago, the athletic department (and Coach Hart in particular) has developed a complete program including touch football, volleyball, basketball, swimming, track, and tennis, with other sports to be added in the future. The trend of college athletics seems to be headed toward all-intramural competition and less inter-collegiate games. It is the opinion of the leading coaches of the country that within five years there will be no more intercollegiate games—no more "Big Games"—and plenty of intramural sports for everyone. In fact, several universities and colleges have already given up their inter-collegiate programs. The future of intramural games in Monmouth College is not known—but it is safe to say that it will show much progress year by year.

Cheer Leaders

Head Cheer LeaderLawrence Chaffee

Junior Cheer LeaderRandall Gray

ASSISTANTS

David McDougall

William Donaldson

Yale Brockett

Delmer Squires

These fellows led the cheering of the Student Body this year, and have added a great deal of enthusiasm to the support of games during the sports season.

They have been especially valuable in conducting pep meetings at chapel and leading yells at the various football and basketball games. In many instances they were ably assisted by the Girls' Pep Club, in presenting novel acts to the students in chapel.

The head cheer leader is elected each year by the student body, and assistant cheer leaders are chosen from a group which tries out for positions.

Athletic Board of Control

The Athletic Board of Control directs the general policies of the Monmouth College Athletic Association. It approves the intercollegiate schedules, makes the awards for varsity and freshman competition, and oversees the financial transactions of the athletic department.

Much credit goes to this executive board for the splendid way in which Monmouth College conducts her intercollegiate athletic relations with other colleges which she meets in the course of the year's games. The fine games which the students attend would not be possible without such a body as this.

Its membership is composed of the following elected members:

Athletic Director	H. L. Hart
Faculty	Dr. McMichael, S. R. Toussaint
Alumni	Web Johnston, Max Turnbull
Trustees	Dr. Ralph Graham, Dr. J. L. Sherrick
Students	H. Mekenson, Glenn Robinson

BOTTOM ROW—M. Finney, C. Wright, B. Downie, M. Weir, M. West, M. McCrea.

Women's Athletic Association

This organization controls the athletic activity of the women of Monmouth College, much in the same way that the Athletic Board of Control directs the men's athletics. Composed mainly of students, this body creates a better understanding of women's athletics among the student body.

Women's Athletics

W. A. A. owes much of its success to Miss Virginia McEwen. She has organized a great variety of sports for women which have attracted a large number of students. Arranging schedules for games, she has inaugurated a program of intramural hockey and basketball tournaments and has coached the teams of the different classes.

Another achievement of Miss McEwen is the annual May Fete, held in the Valley Beautiful each spring and sponsored by W. A. A. These fine presentations are under her direction, and are worthy of highest mention. W. A. A. wishes to take this opportunity to express its gratitude and appreciation for all she has done for women's athletics at Monmouth.

Because of very cold weather, the hockey tournament could not be completed. Girls of the hockey teams, however, had many good times during practice and had developed a strong group of players.

Tarkio is the only college our tennis team has played this far in the year. Doris Holt defeated Arleen Martin in a 7-5 set, and Virginia Quade lost to Mary Elizabeth Prather 6-4 and 6-3. Other games are scheduled with Eureka, Augustana, Illinois College, Bradley and Knox. Doris Holt will probably represent Monmouth in the state meet at Decatur.

Girl's Basketball

The Junior-Senior team won the basketball tournament this year. The Junior team has come through three years of college basketball competition and is yet to be defeated. Standings of the other teams were less encouraging, the Freshman girls winning two and losing two games, while the Sophomores lost all theirs.

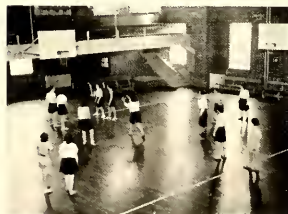

At the close of the season, the Freshman-Sophomore teams entertained the winning teams at a banquet at Hawcock's. This is a regular feature of each year's competition; winners of each tournament are given this dinner as a reward for good sportsmanship and good playing.

Officials of the women's basketball courts for the past year were efficient and capable of handling their teams. These officials were:

Basketball Mgr. Ellen Rhinehart
 Junior-Senior Captain Ellen Rhinehart
 Sophomore Captain Elizabeth Funk
 Freshman Captain Margaret Scott

Members of the Junior-Senior team deserve recognition for their fine playing. These girls, undefeated this year, have brought an excellent type of basketball to Monmouth this winter and have shown the true spirit in competition. The members of the team are:

Laura Hays Center
 Genevieve Parrish Forward
 Mary Weir Forward
 Ellen Rhinehart Guard
 Kathryn Salisbury Guard
 Martha Henderson Guard
 Margaret West Substitute
 Lillian West Substitute

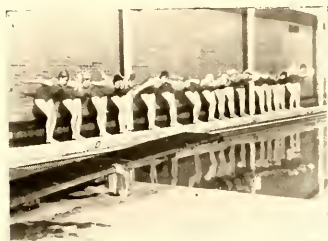

Girl's Basketball

Eight girls chosen for their all-round athletic ability and sportsmanship represented Monmouth at the Play Day contests held this year at Augustana. Seven schools were represented here: Augustana, Knox, Bradley, Carthage, Western Teachers, and Monmouth among them.

The Girls who went from Monmouth were Laura Hays, Mary Weir, Mary Finney, Virginia Quade, Margaret Scott, Sylvia Sidlo, Jean Lackey, and Virginia Shank.

Swimming, under the direction of Miss McEwen and assisted by Laura Hays, has been rather popular among sports this year. Instruction has been given in swimming, diving, and in Life Saving methods. Girls who have passed the life saving tests are Elizabeth Gilfillan, Mary Weir, Elizabeth Funk, Carolyn Wright, Claramae Miller, Jean Lackey, Sylvia Sidlo, Margaret Stewart, Emma Work, and Eleanor Gehr.

Tennis

Tennis is a sport which finds favor among the women of the college. In this game, skill, speed, and accuracy and not merely strength is needed to make the champion. Women find that tennis is a game in which they may meet the men of the college on equal terms, and in many cases winning over them. This sport is recognized each spring in the inter-class tournaments held between the girls of the four classes.

Woman's Athletic Association Awards

Each year those women who have earned enough points by participating in the various sports activities are awarded a sweater bearing the college "M" and the initials "W. A. A."

This year we find emblems given to four girls who have earned the required number of points. These girls are Laura Hays, Genevieve Parrish, Kathryn Salisbury and Mary Weir; while Dorothy Laxson and Martha Henderson are among former wearers of the insignia.

Riding

Horseback riding, a rugged and invigorating outdoor sport, is another way in which the candidate for the W. A. award may earn her sweater. Many of the girls have taken up this healthful exercise and have found it more than enjoyable.

Sigma Omicron Mu

The purpose of an honorary scholastic fraternity is to raise the standard of work and cultural development on a college or university campus. Sigma Omicron Mu endeavors to fulfill this purpose by not only requiring scholastic achievement but moral accomplishment. The requirements for membership are higher than those for Phi Beta Kappa, and are based on the number of honor points earned in proportion to the number of hours carried by the student. The fraternity "taps" new members once each semester on days devoted to scholarship.

College Alumni Association

In order that the alumni of "Old Monmouth" might continue their relationship with the college, the Alumni Association was formed. The association undertakes to promote and advance the interests of Monmouth College, and to cooperate with all plans for her upbuilding.

Everyone who has ever attended Monmouth, whether a graduate or not, and any friend of the college by gift or service, may be a member. Active members are those who contribute to the support of the association; those who are identified more closely with the active spirit shown by Old Monmouth in this anniversary year. Active members receive the Alumni Bulletin issued regularly, and are entitled to elect not only the officers of the Association, but also nine members of the College Senate as well.

Oracle

It is the aim of the Oracle, the campus weekly newspaper, to reflect student opinion and to reproduce, as accurately as possible, the news of the college. In order to do this, it was necessary to utilize the services of many more staff members and reporters than are listed in these pages.

The editor of the Oracle takes this opportunity to thank all the students and faculty members who have contributed to the paper. His hearty appreciation of all their good work is extended to all.

Many times during the year we have felt that the best of work was still ahead of us; we have tried to attain those high ideals set for the Oracle, and in a small measure we feel successful. Yet it is the hope of the editorial board that the next year's Oracle, and each succeeding one, may reach beyond our aims and attain still higher ideals.

THE EDITOR.

Ravelings

Yearbooks are a fundamental part of the student's life. In them we find a record of all the activities of the college year, in pictures and in words. During the past few years the Ravelings has shown a remarkable progress in size and form—each new editor striving to produce a book better than those of preceding years.

It is with this thought that we give you the 1932 Ravelings: May you find in it a happy memory of this school year, and may you remember it in the days to come.

The Ravelings is the student's book—edited and financed entirely by the Junior Class. We would like to feel that this is the best book ever published at Monmouth. Whether we have done this is for the reader to say. We have done our work and leave the decision to you.

May this book, then, be your memory chest of the year's occasions. May each new editor, in years to come, ever strive for the ultimate perfection of annuals toward which we have marched this year.

Rembrandt Club

With the formation of the Fine Arts Department of the college, and with the coming of Professor Derendinger as its head, the men and women of the college who possessed an artistic nature had the opportunity of forming an art club which took the name of that great painter, Rembrandt.

This club holds meetings each month and views great paintings, discussing them and presenting papers on the great masters. Much attention has been placed upon the new "modernistic" and "futuristic" art which has caused so much discussion in the last few years. The leader of the club, Prof. Derendinger, has achieved satisfactory results in the creating of a new art appreciation in students of Monmouth College.

The Octopus

Founded

1927

MONMOUTH COLLEGE

PresidentRay Todd

A group of seniors who saw the need of an organization to bind together in harmony the various units of the campus, and to carry on as a group the traditions and ambitions of Monmouth College, formed this organization in 1927. Since that time eight seniors have been chosen each year, from the succeeding junior class, until at this time the membership is more than forty-three.

These eight men chosen from the class of 1931 have been functioning in secret all year. Their identity is not known until this page is read. With public announcement comes the right to wear the gold key, bearing an octopus and certain other secret insignia inscribed thereon.

The alumni group has a well-defined organization with the following permanent officers:

PresidentLoren E. Hays, '27, Chicago
 General SecretaryRobert Acheson, '28, Chicago
 Corresponding Secretary ..Richard P. Petrie, '29, Monmouth
 General TreasurerBruce B. Barr, '28, Monmouth

Tau Pi

Early last fall, under the sponsorship of Dean Potter and with the approval of Dr. McMichael, eight senior women were selected to found this organization. These members were chosen on a three-point basis for election of all members: Scholarship, Leadership, and Service.

It is hoped that this organization will uphold the standards of true womanhood on the campus, and be a public recognition for those women who have approximated these standards during their college careers.

Unlike the Octopus, the junior members chosen each year will be publicly known and will function openly.

The charter members of Tau Pi are:

Floy Fetherston	President
Margaret Stonerook	Vice President
Elizabeth Main	Secretary-Treasurer
June Billings	Estella Diehl
Emilie Chapman	Dorothy Laxson
Ruth Scheidegger

Y. W. C. A. Cabinet

The Y. W. C. A. has been successful in sponsoring not only the usual Christmas bazaar this year, but also an elaborate Carnival which was held in the spring. This group of young women identifies itself with many worthwhile movements, among which was the bringing of eminent speakers to the campus. Miss Esther West addressed the young women of the college, in a chapel talk, on the subject of "International Relations."

INKLINGS FROM YE EDITOR'S PEN

Well! Here we are, all ready to show you that grand humor section we promised. This editorial writer makes no apologies to anyone; merely thanksgiving that this little offering is so complete and full of that elusive thing called "wit." As we go to press we offer a silent prayer that the reader will enjoy our contribution. This is all in the spirit of fun and burlesque; we have worked hard to give you something different—and in the words of the Old Maestro, "We hope you like it!"

THE SUNNYSIDE MURDER CASE

(NOT BY S. S. VAN DINE)

CHAPTER I.

Dawn was beginning to break in the eastern sky. With a loud crash and a fearful clatter it finally broke and fell in many pieces. The noise awoke me from my fitful sleep and, as I rolled over to catch another snooze before the 7:45 whistle blew, the telephone rang merrily. As I lifted the receiver, I immediately recognized the calm voice of my dear friend Philo Trance (sometimes known as "Old Ec-crit").

"There has been a ghastly murder," he mumbled with a big mouth full of schnapps. "Do you want to come along with me and view the remains?"

Since Trance declined to give me any details over the telephone, I yawned grudgingly and started dressing. In a few minutes (dorm girls' minutes, probably) I was in Trance's sumptuous apartment.

CHAPTER II.

As I knocked loudly on Trance's door, Fujiyama, the Japanese butler, let me in. I found the great detective reclining in an easy chair reading a volume of "Edgar Guest" in the original Siamese language, and smoking one of his delicate "Camel" cigarettes which he imported with great care from The Grand.

"Sit down," he invited, "and join me in a demi-tasse while I unravel the gory details of this dastardly machination of some disordered mind."

Although bubbling over with impatience, I knew that nothing could persuade Trance to tell me anything until he was quite ready to do so. I accepted the cup of stale coffee and found it truly invigorating this fine spring morning.

CHAPTER III.

"Sheriff Whoozis called me this morning and asked me to help him in the case. It seems that a man was found dead in Sunnyside Dorm this morning, with no clues left and no identifying marks to tell whom the victim might be," Trance began.

"He was wearing a dirty shirt, so he might have been a Phi Kap; but his neck hadn't been washed for a week—and so he might have been a Beta Kappa. However, two Pullman towels and a package of borrowed cigarettes in his pocket indicate the possibility that he was a Teke. He was absolutely dead broke, though, like the T. U. O.'s generally are. So there's nothing to do except to go over to Sunnyside and inspect the debris."

CHAPTER IV.

The prospect of entering Sunnyside at this early hour filled me with brightest hopes, and as we approached "The Big House" I saw semi-clad feminine figures scurrying about the halls.

"Ah, 'tis a lovely spring mornin' today!" sighed Trance. He nodded absently and stumbled over a brick in the street. "Humph!" he yawned, as he spied the body. "it serves the blighter right for ever coming to this bloody place! I hope it taught him a lesson."

CHAPTER V.

After a cursory examination Trance went over to a large armchair, carefully selected a fresh stick of chewing gum from an inside pocket, and began to meditate. He closed his eyes and sat perfectly still—a posture he assumed when meditating. Soon I heard a low rumbling sound escaping from his lips. Trance was snoring! As I was supposed to help him, I immediately lent my aid and also snored.

CHAPTER VI.

Sleeping in Sunnyside! What an adventure! Here ~~was~~ something to write home about. However, it was getting us nowhere in the solution of this mystery, so we began to think about the murder case again. Trance made a few mental calculations and exclaimed, in his peculiar way, "Eureka—I have it!"

This was no time for wise-cracks, so I merely nodded my approval. "What have you?" I asked.

"The solution! I have deduced who killed this man, and why. And How!"

He went to the telephone to call the sheriff, but the line was busy.

"Darn these dorm telephones! They're always busy!" he cried.

CHAPTER VII.

When the sheriff arrived, Trance said, "Whoozis, arrest the entire dormitory! They have killed this man!"

So the sheriff placed the dormitory under arrest and put them on bread and water, and campused them all. Just like a dean, I thought.

CHAPTER VIII.

"Trance, tell me how you knew who killed him? And why should these harmless little girls ever do such a thing?" I asked the great sleuth.

"Well, old man, it was this way: Girls always seem harmless, just to look at them, but

Salesgirl: And what kind of step-ins would you like to buy, sir?

Customer: Like those the girl sitting over there is wearing.

—Grinnell Malteaser.

Californian: This gin and orange juice is lousy! Who's your bootlegger?

Floridan: It's not the liquor—it's these California oranges I had to use.

—Pitt Panther.

She: Bill, I like your new suit.

He: New suit! You mean my wardrobe.

First Party: Well—turn around and let me see your wardrobe.

you know very well that the female is more deadly than the male.

"This man must have entered the wrong house. When he realized his mistake, he tried to escape unobserved, but the girls found him. The girls were so furious that any man should try to escape that they simply killed him for revenge—and that's that."

Student: 'This is a lousy class.
 Prof.: Terrible, my boy.

"Thank God for our follies," said the professor.

"Yes," agreed the student, "I like the women, too."

In Boccaccio, it's frankness;
 In Rabelais, it's life;
 In a professor, it's clever,
 And in a college comic,— it's smutty.

"I seen my duty—and I collected it," boasted the customs agent.

"What's a anteater, pop?"
 "A picnicker, sonny."

IN THE SPRING

—A young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of baseball, tennis, golf, swimming, boating, hiking, riding, fishing—I wonder who the new girl is who just moved in across the street?

"There are lots of couples that don't pet in parked cars."
 "Yes, the woods are full of them."

At least if girls wear longer skirts, men will be able to do a little studying in the library.

"Ride with Ethyl and get the benefit of high compression—oh, Ethyl!"

"Where did Jim get his prom girl?"

"Don't know, but it must have been in one of these blindfold tests."

She: Are you a big man on the campus?

He: Well, I dunno about that, but I'm the big noise at the library.

"My girl has lots of personality."

"Mine isn't good looking either."

"It's raining. Why don't you put on your slicker?"

"I can't. I got a book in one hand and it won't go through the sleeve."

She was only the garbage man's daughter, but she inherited a swell dump.

"I want to see the head of the house."

"You'll have to wait a minute—they're just deciding it."

"No, Lucille, a dogma is not a mamma dog."

Kappa: Did you say that he doesn't know how to kiss?

Gamma: No. I said that he didn't know how to kiss.

Hostess: I'm delighted to see you, Mr. Hackleberry! I've heard so much about you.

Guest: You can't prove anything.

ABSENT-MINDED

"Well, well, a professors' meeting?"
"Yes, a little forget-together."

"How did John take it when May gave him his ring back?"
"He took it to the nearest pawnshop."

The new car models are appearing on the market so fast that a woman scarcely has time to dry her eyes before she's got to begin weeping again.

Co-ed (at end of semester): Now that you have kissed, Professor, what do you think?
Prof.: You will fail. I need you my class next quarter.

Speaking of theme songs, there is the catchy tune of the Dog-Catchers Union: Here we go Gathering Mutts in May.

He may have been a ham, but his sugar cured him.

When a Notre Dame student wants to study geography he goes out for football.

Freshman: Wait a minute, Bill. I want to go up to the room and wash up.

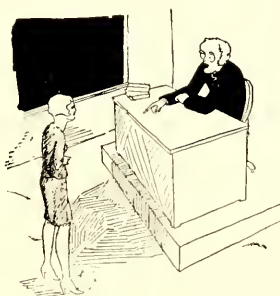

Roommate: All right, and while you're up there you may as well change my shirt.

"Could you pass the bread?"
"I think I can. I moved pianos all summer."

"No girl ever made a fool out of me."
"Who was it, then?"

"What are you going to do after you graduate?"
"Sell bon—"
"But I mean, what are you going to do after that?"

"No, Cuthbert, a coquette is not a small Coca-Cola."

News Item: U. S. Government Starts Campaign to Conserve Wild Life—A movement to perpetuate the Co-ed?

"Are you serious?"
"No. Armenian."

Jim: How did you get even up with your chemistry professor?
Zim: Oh, I handed him a hot retort.
At a house-party an old-fashioned dancer is one who dances.

A college man likes a girl beautiful but dumb—beautiful enough to please him and dumb enough to like him.

"What's is a boycott?"
"A davenport's brother, sir."

And then there was the young man who called on the school teacher and had to stay an extra hour for being naughty.

More water is used for making oceans than anything else.

Myrt: So your mother says you must tell a man to stop when he tries to neck you?

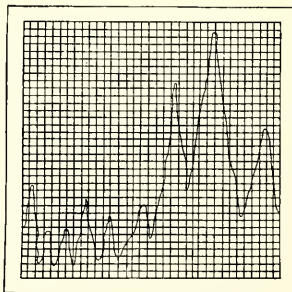

Gert: Yes. She says that makes them ever so much more persistent.

WANAMAKER MAD?

Girl: But, Mother, I much prefer that dress we saw at Altman's!
Mother: Hush, child. Mother knows Best.

I've decided to call my girl Poison, because she's going ptomaine this summer.

He: I'm groping for words.
She: Well, you don't expect to find them around my neck, do you?

Don't be misled. Just icicles seen through a screen window.

COLLITCH LOVE

"What's the matter, dear—why all the tears?"

"Oh, John kissed me again."

"What did you do about it?"

"I—I—I struggled the best I could."

"I'll tell that simpleton something"

"You can't do it now, dear."

"Why cant I do it now?"

"You'll have to wait until he comes to."

THE POET'S NIGHTMARE

The curfew tolls the knell of parting day

*On thy cold grey stones, O sea!
And I would that my heart could utter
A poem lovely as a tree.*

*I have a rendezvous with death
By the shores of Gilchie Gunee,
Listen, my children, and you shall hear
The thoughts that arise in me.*

Ye crags and peaks, I'm with you once again!

Have you heard of the wonderful one-hoss shay?

*She was a phantom of delight
Out of China 'cross the bay.*

*The little toy dog is covered with dust
At the foot of thy crags, O sea,
And the dawn comes like thunder,
To be or not to be.*

O Captain! my Captain!

*Grow old along with me,
Laugh and the world laughs with you
When I put out to sea.*

September-October

- Sept. 17—Fifty-seven varieties of upper-classmen and ditto for the wee, sma' Freshmen met for the first time in the Annual Walk-Out, the conclusion being a huge conflagration.
- Sept. 21—New tone qualities were discernible in the Vesper Choir, and after an extensive work-out a great improvement is to be hoped for.
- Sept. 27—The fighting Scots showed what they could do in their first game and Wheaton fell as the victim.
- Sept. 28—Ah! an appetizer of greatest excellence is a retreat at Oquawka—just ask the Y. W. Cabinet!
- Oct. 1—A new innovation—the Y. W. held initiation banquet at McMichael Dorm, or rather Home, the initiation service occurring after all had banquetted.
- Oct. 3—And is this NEW! The first all-college party with games and dancing—what a grand and glorious time.
- Oct. 8—All the young hopefuls after faithfully practicing before their mirrors tried out for Crimson Masque; alas, some were too hopeful!

FROM FRESH TO SENIORS—

How you do change! You may not realize it but we watch your growth and see how different you are at the end of your college career than at the beginning.

SOME of the BEST STUDENTS

Realize that their mind must have a rest from their studies. They read many books from our Circulating Library.

WE WOULD LIKE TO HAVE YOU FEEL—

That our store has a personality. We want to like you and we want you to like us.

MISS BROWN—There, I would say, is Personality Plus. They call her "Happy." Everyone likes her.

MISS HENNEGAN—She is our dear little Irish bookkeeper. We will surely hate to lose Irene. After four years she just about runs this store. But you know how it is with these Irish—best to try to get along with them.

ALLAN McCASLIN—Allan is all right until you begin to question him about what he does when he is off duty—or where he spends his evenings. If you are young and beautiful you may expect service from him.

January-February

Jan. 9—Monmouth suffered a glorious defeat at the hands of Carleton. The crowd was weak at the end of the heartbreaking game.

Jan. 14—Announcement has just been made of Harold Hermann's new "Flea incubator". May it succeed!

Jan. 15—Did you hear Earnest Davis sing? With eyes closed he poured forth his soul in melodious tones, but the students did not seem to appreciate his efforts.

Jan. 21—Exams begin—need more be said?

Feb. 2—It being ground-hog day, and the Freshmen being mere shadows anyway, they have charge of C. C. A. The topic: "Me and My Shadow".

Feb. 12—The hospitable Scots were hosts this week-end to the contestants in the State Oratorical Contest. Much warmth in the air was noticeable—hot air, you know!

Feb. 13—Again the Crimson Masque, but all those young hopefuls had to test their wings. The three one-act plays this time were all comedies—Monmouth students can appreciate comedy!

THE RAVELINGS

Feb. 18—Begone all vain hopes and fears! There will be a Ravelings in spite of the fire at Martin's Studio—in fact, here we are!

Feb. 24—First a holiday—then the 75th Anniversary Banquet—much speech, much fun. Quite an affair.

Feb. 27—Revenge is sweet. Monmouth defeated Illinois Wesleyan 21-18, with Jelly responsible for the final spurt to victory. Guess we showed them how to play clean basketball!

March and April

March 5—It was a thrill of a lifetime to hear those Russian singers—especially that song which repeated the same phrase fifty-eleven times!

March 11—Alas! one of our midst is in deepest mourning. Indeed, it is no other than our beloved Editor Meloy, who announced with black band and all his engagement. But he is just one of many mourners—may they be happy!

March 20—N. C. P. presented "Right You Are, If You Think So," and the students and audience (there's a difference!) simply wore themselves out trying to think.

March 25—Release, relief and rest for a week!—and oh, how weak!

April 3—The women's debate squad won a cup for us at Oshkosh—which goes to prove that Monmouth women can out-talk Monmouth men any old day—with some exceptions.

April 8—The great American sport—where men forget to be gentlemen—Baseball—and the first game of the season.

April 11—And now for the Y. W. Carnival, where even the faculty indulged in a round of golf in the old, historical Philo room. The night club entertainment was accompanied by grapefruit and lettuce, now in season! Quite a success!

April 14—Primary elections occurred very quietly today—and little of Mark Murphy was made head of the Oracle for next year.

April 20—We do have some accomplished people in Monmouth, a playwright, in fact. Thelma Kniss' original play, "Touched—A Rose," was given in C. C. A.

April 21—The Honorable Mr. William Hemphill will steer the student body through the fog for next year—may it be a sunny year!

April 29—The girls are not trying to steal the thunder of the boys—however, there is a new woman's honorary society on the campus—and eight girls kept a secret for a whole year.

May and June

May 1—Everybody took May-baskets around; itisket, itasket, etc. Hang-over from Davis' piano.

May 2—Philo holds open meeting to let everyone know it is still alive and kicking (?)

May 13—Seniors pull a fast one and sneak out for the day.

May 21—The Cavaliers (not lavaliers, you bun!) recited their annual public recital amid cheers (perhaps) and jeers (always).

May 29—Girls go native (or as Dwight says, "Revert to type") in Valley Beautiful, dancing in bare feet without stepping on a single tack!

June 8—Lady Alice leads alumni prayer meeting.

June 9—Annual meeting of the Senate: "My Fate Is In Your Hands" is the theme song regarding dancing. Class night exercises take place with much re-unioning and plenty of handshaking, etc.

June 11—Commencement Day: Seniors no longer, the grads are turned out into the cruel cold world.

A Few Facts About Monmouth College

THAT ARE NOT FOUND ELSEWHERE IN THIS RAVELINGS.

MONMOUTH COLLEGE HAS A STRONG FACULTY.

The forty professors and instructors in the faculty group represent the outstanding institutions of America and Europe.

MONMOUTH HAS AN ENVIABLE SCHOLASTIC AND ATHLETIC STANDING.

When the first list of members of the North Central Association was published the name of Monmouth College was included. Her position as a member of this association has never been questioned. Monmouth is approved as an institution of the first rank by the Association of American Universities. Monmouth is fully recognized by the American Association of University Women. Athletically Monmouth competes in the Midwest and Little 19 Conferences.

MONMOUTH HAS AN UNEXCELLED PHYSICAL EQUIPMENT.

The campus extends over thirty acres and with the twelve buildings is conservatively valued at more than a million dollars. The endowment amounts to about two million dollars.

MONMOUTH COLLEGE HAS A LOYAL ALUMNI AND STUDENT GROUP.

The thousands of men and women who received their college training at Monmouth will be found occupying positions of trust and responsibility and honor in all parts of the world. The more than five hundred students are drawn from all parts of the country; it is often remarked that Monmouth has a truly cosmopolitan student body.

MONMOUTH COLLEGE HAS A DEFINITELY CHRISTIAN ATMOSPHERE.

Monmouth men are serving in every clime as ministers of the gospel; others are serving as Christian educators, doctors, lawyers and other professions.

MONMOUTH IS ACCESSIBLE.

Located on the main line of the great Burlington System, Monmouth is also served by the St. Louis Division of the Burlington, by the Minneapolis and St. Louis Railroad and numerous bus lines operate over the state and federal highways that pass the campus.

These are but a few of the things that make Monmouth a College of Distinction, a desirable place to attend college. Opportunity awaits you educationally at Monmouth.

Society Brand Clothes

What you invest in a Suit determines what you will get out of it. There are always stores which chirp, "Cheap, Cheap, Cheap!" for there are people who actually think that price is everything.

They forget that, "how long it wears," is a better measure of economy than, "how cheap it was."

You can be sure of getting good wear, good looks and comfort in any suit you choose here.

"THE HOME OF GOOD SHOES"

The new and unusual—that sparkling reality which is known as the life of each school year—is caught and held forever within the pages of Bureau built annuals. The ability to assist in making permanent such delightful bits of class spontaneity rests in an organization of creative artists guided by some 17 years of College Annual work, which experience is the knowledge of balance and taste and the fitness of doing things well. In the finest year books of American Colleges the sincerity and genuineness of Bureau Engraving quality instantly impresses one. They are class records that will live forever.

The Editor's Last Word:

This 1932 Ravelings, commemorating the seventy-fifth anniversary of Monmouth College, is at last in the hands of the reader. Many times during the last year, in the process of publishing this volume, we have felt that perhaps the book would never be finished and would be a big mess after all.

However, everything turned out all right and as we leave this parting thought with you—we hope that you enjoy reading the book as much as we enjoyed creating it. Our staff members were ably fitted to bring this book to a successful completion; yet there were many others who added their bit to the success of this book.

We take this opportunity of thanking certain friends for their part: Art Segal and Bill Dobbs of the Bureau of Engraving, who always helped us in time of need; the able printing staff of the Commercial Art Press, who gave us the fine workmanship found in these pages; to the editors of "Colliers" and the "Saturday Evening Post" we are grateful for permission to reprint cartoons, and to George T. Eggleston of "College Humor" magazine for his permission to use the idea of a humor magazine in our joke section. We are indebted to Mr. Smith Brinker of the Review-Atlas for several humorous pictures; and to Mr. Harold Hermann, the college publicity director, for some fine snapshots and campus views.

We could go on naming others who have helped materially in preparing this book, but most of all we want to congratulate the members of the Student Body for their co-operation with the editor and staff.

We leave you, then, with this volume of Monmouth College history. May you enjoy it now and in the years to come!

THE EDITOR.
